Rumored That the Road Will Be Taken Out · of Receivers' Hands,

The Earnings Have Been Satisfactory -Answer to the Johns Hopperous since it went into the hands of Reeivers Cowen and Murray that it will soon be reorganized, with Mr. Oscar G. Murray. who is now looking after the actual operations of the road, as president. A move made yesterday in Baltimore by the Mer-cantile Trust Company of New York, which, with a syndicate of bankers associated with it, is taking care of the interest on various issues of bonds of the B. and O. as the payments become due, seems to make road and banking circles for some time past, that the road is likely to remain under the supervision of the United States courts for a considerable period to come.

The incident of yesterday above referred to was the filing of the answer of the Mercantile Trust Company for itself, and as trustee for other large security holders, to the suit of the Johns Hopkins University trustees, the latter having petitioned the United States court at Baltimore and Ohio Rallroad Company be made to pay 6 per cent dividend on the $1,100,000 invested in the road by the Johns Hopkins University, on the ground that when the trustees bought the stock of the B. and O. it was expressly understood between the parties interested that the particular issue purchased was a prior lien on the profits of the road.

As in the case of the answer of the road. road and banking circles for some time

the earnings."

The Mercantile Trust Company also

the earnings."

The Mercantile Trust Company also claims "that when the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company was organized it was contemplated and provided that it should obtain the capital necessary for its purposes, as well by the exercise of the power to borrow money and pledge its property for the payment of the same and its interest as by the issue and sale of stock."

Continuing, the answer says: "The right of the company to borrow money, pledge the property of the company and pay interest was not affected by the act of 1835 or the contract executed by the company thereunder, by which it agreed to make certain payments out of the profits of the work or out of the profits of the company.

"That the holder of such a contract cannot claim a preference or priority of charge either on property or income over the creditors of the company holding claims for the principal or interest of money borrowed of the company and used for the acquisition of property from which profits are to be derived, or holding claims arising out of the operations of the company are required to meet the lawful demands of creditors. there are no profits of the company to which such a contract to pay out of the profits can attach.

"That the petitioner herein (the trustees

can attach.

"That the petitioner herein (the trustees of the Johns Hopkins University) will be entitled to no payment, on account of the stock held by it, out of the property or income in the hands of the receivers of the Baltimore and Ohio until the claims of all the creditors of said company who are entitled to demand payment are fully paid and discharged."

It is further stated that "no profits here" It is further stated that "no profits have accrued to the company from January 1 to June 30, 1896, which could be distributed to the petitioner and the other preferred stockholders without prejudice to the lawful rights of creditors of the company.

The answer also adopts as a part of its own the statement made to the court by the receivers several weeks ago, that during the last six months of the fiscal year ending June 30 the expenses of the Baltimore and Ohio company, including the fixed charges, were nearly $1,400,000 greater than the receipts, and that consequently there could be no profile. the petitioner and the other preferred stock-and Ohio company, including the fixed charges, were nearly $1,400,000 greater than the receipts, and that consequently there could be no profits during the period for which the Johns Hopkins University trustees asked that a dividend be paid on their stock in the road.

An answer precisely like that of the Mercantile Trust Company was filed on the part of the corporation of the Baltimore and Chio Railread Company.

Notwithstanding the heavy falling off in the receipts of the company, as stated by the receipters, those officials have made provision for the protection of the following securities, whose semi-annual interest falls due tomorrow: Morgan sterling loan, payable in London, $23,000; Baltimore and Chio equipment, series B, payable in Philadelphia, $25,000; Confidence and Oakland, payable in Philadelphia, $3,000; Baltimore and New York, payable in New York, $6,825; Baltimore Belt railroad, first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, coupen amounting to about $150,000, payable at the office of Brown Brothers & Co., in New York.

Lafayette Square Opera House.-A week of delightful comedy is the program at the Lafayette Square Opera House. Ada Rehan and Augustin Daly's company are coming, and, as usual, will take Washington by storm. Miss Rehan is easily the first actress in the country. During her coming engagement she will be seen in all of those delightful characters of which one can never have a surfeit. The most interesting event of the week, probably, will be the revival of "London Assurance," Dion Boucicault's comedy, which has been but little seen of late years, with Miss Rehan in the character of Lady Gay Spanker, a part which should admirably suit her keen sense of humor and spirited temperament. In the modern comedy, "Love on Crutches," Miss Rehan and the Daly company are seen at their best. Miss Rehan is, of course, the star of all the casts, but too much praise cannot be given to the entire company either as individuals or as a whoie. There is a smoothness in a Daly performance, a completion of and attention to detail that leaves nothing to be desired. All the old favorites of Mr. Daly's company will be seen, including Mrs. Gilbert, George Clarke, Edwin Varrey, Edwin Stevens, Charles Richman, Miss Percy Haswell, Miss Maud Hoffman, Miss Marie St. John, etc. Crowded houses will undoubtedly greet these cleverest of players. The repertoire for the week will be as follows: Monday and Saturday evenings, "The Taming of the Snrew;" Tuesday evening and Saturday, "Love on Crutches," and Friday evening, "As You Like It."

New Columbia Theater.-The opening of New Columbia Theater.—The opening of the New Columbia Theater Monday evening. November 9, will be a great event in the musical history of Washington. Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman have secured for this coxcasion the Metropolitan English Grand Opera Company, H. Grau, director, which will give a change of grand opera throughout the week, with the exception of Thursday evening. November 12.

Mr. H. Grau, the director of the company, is the head of the distinguished family that bears this name. He has an international reputation from his operatic career. Mr. Adolph Neuerdorff, the musical director, has also a world-wide reputation as one of the oldest conductors in the country. He brings with him a metropolitan orchestra and a large chorus thoroughly competent and effective. The prima donna soprano of the company is Georgius von Januschowsky of the Imperial Opera House, Vienna, and the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Madam Januschowsky has a repertoire unsurpassed by that of any prima donna of modern times, and covering all the grand operas from Beethoven's master work, "Fidelio," to Mascagni's now famous "Cavalleria Rusticana." As in the case of the answer of the receivers of the B. and O., which was filed several weeks ago as their reply to the petition, the unswer of the Mercantile Trust Company contends that "the stock held by the university was no more entitled to preference than preferred stock owned by any other institution or individual, and that, first of all, the outstanding obligations must be paid, and then the stock-holders would come in for their share of the Mercantile.

Grand Opera House.—The artistic and commercial value of Bartley Campbell's famous play. "The White Slave," has long since been established, and its revival at the Grand Opera House next week promises to be an event of no little importance. The company is one of the strongest ever seen in this city, and the scenery and mechanical effects are new and startling. A special effects are new and startling. A will be fifty people on the stage in the plantation scene. Election returns will be received by special wire and read from the stage on Tuesday night.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra Conphony Orchestra has made a monthly jour-certs.—For eleven years the Boston Symphony Orchestra has made a monthly journey, during the winter, to Washington, and given to the lovers of good music an op-portunity to listen to concerts of as high given to the lovers of good music an opportunity to listen to concerts of as high a standard as are given anywhere in the world, and at regular theater prices. Judging by the announcement for the coming season, the twelfth season bids fair to equal its predecessors in attractiveness and merit. If the acoustics of the new Columbia Theater will allow it, Conductor Paur wiil bring with him the full orchestra of ninety men. A new feature of the concerts, which cannot fail to be acceptable to a great majority of the patrons, is a ten-minute intermission in the middle of the program. Owing to a previous engagenent of the Columbia Theater, the performance on the second trip will be a matinee, on Tuesday afternoon, December 8, and 4:15 is the time selected to begin the concert, as the most satisfactory to all the patrons. No organization visiting this city has stancher friends than the Boston Sympheny Orchestra, and, as far as is possible, with the ever-changing personnel of Washirgton society, the audiences are practically the same. Although as flattering attendance as in the past is certainly assured, desirable seats can still be had at Metzerott's.

New National Theater.—"Miss Philadel-phia" will hold the boards at the New Na-tional Theater next week.

Academy of Music.—Next week Peter Dalley will be seen at the Academy of Music in "A Good Thing."

Bijou Family Theater.—The old standard melodramas seem to be drawing the best this season, which fact has led Mr. J. Z. Little to revive his celebrated success, "The World." There will be the usual daily matinee, which has become an established feature of Manager Whitesell's policy, and in addition on Tuesday, right. there will be a special midnight matthee, lasting from 11:30 to 2:30, during which cheap prices of the house will be made for this amusement and edification combined.

Kernan's Lyceum Tneater.—The next attraction at Kernan's Lyceum is that world-renowned organization, the Boston Howard Athenaeum Star Specialty Company, now in its fifteenth successful season. The program includes several who will make their first appearance in this city. Among them is Ben R. Harney, the exponent of the negro character, singing their real melodies and playing "Rag Time" music on the piano, a noveity; Morton and Mack, the Celtic comedy portrayers, the piper and dancer: Falke and Semon, musical artists, vocalists and comedians, par excellence; Eddie O Dell, the athletic tramp: Dolph and Susie Levino, in their novel sketch, "The Rival Arts:" Grovini and Murray, the international lady acrobatic dancers; Wm. Kaye and Ada Henry, comedy sketch artists, in their own creation, "Capital versus Labor;" Collins and Collins, character singers and neat dancers; Sam and Kittle Morton, vocalists and up-to-date expert dancers. There will be an extra midnight performance at the Lyceum next Tuesday, when the election returns will be read to the audience from the stage as quickly as they are received.

The Metropolitan Concerts.—The subscription list for these converts is ellies.

The Metropolitan Concerts.-The subrapidly. The list of artists is most inviting, and the variety is sufficient to please the lover of music. Rosenthal and Joseffy are offered as plano virtuosi; Mme. Nordica and Mme. Linde as leading soprano and contralls solviers are sufficient. and Mme. Linde as leading soprano and contralto soloists, respectively, and Mme. Camillo Urso and Miss Maud Powell, violinists. Each of these artists will have the support of a capable company, in which will be heard many concert favorites. The list of subscribers is now open at E. F. Droop & Sons, 925 Pennsylvania avenue, and the management will not include Washington in the tour unless it is shown that the concerts will be patronshown that the concerts will be patron ized sufficiently to warrant it.

Caledonian Club Entertainment,-An entertainment was given in Builders' Ex-change Hall last night by the Burnt Corl Club for the Caledonian Club, at which a large audience was present that was en-thusiastic in its demonstrations of approval of the various acts given for its entertain-

"Ian Maclaren."—It is positively announced that Dr. John Watson of Liverpool, England, known the world over as "Ian Maclaren," will visit Washington about the middle of November and give one of his lecture readings. Dr. Watson is pastor of Sefton Park Church, Liverpool, one of the finest shurches in that city, which is constantly growded by one of the largest and most influential congregations in all England, and as a preacher, among English preachers, holds the foremost place. He is a man of great eloquence and originality of thought. As a lecturer and reader from his writings As a lecturer and reader from his writings he is as successful as with his pen. Dr. Watson's entertainment consists of readings from his "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," "Days of Auld Lang Syne," and unpublished stories.
